

More ways to plug in

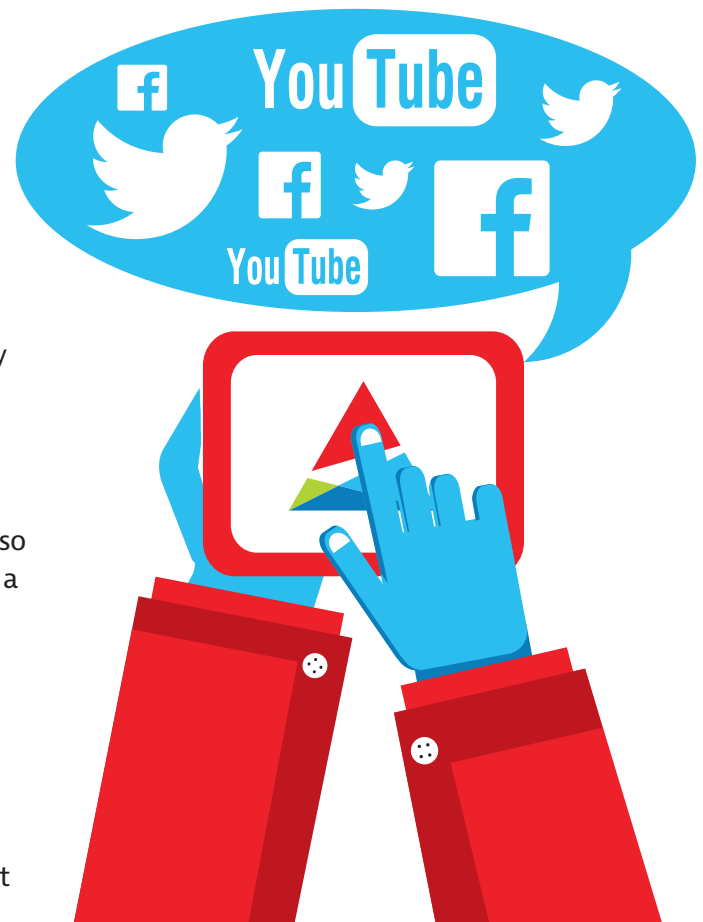

As more people turn to social networks for news and connections, Alabama Power is there to provide the information you need. You can find us on Twitter, Facebook and YouTube, sharing items about energy efficiency, safety, storm preparation and outage recovery. The last is particularly useful, as we have more customers turning to their phones for the latest updates when storms strike.

If you choose to follow @AlabamaPower on Twitter, you'll get a light stream of information including energy efficiency tips, outage updates and occasional news releases.

When you "Like" the Alabama Power page on Facebook, your stream will include energy efficiency advice, fun facts about the company and news. We'll also answer questions, but not all questions are suitable for a public forum.

Our YouTube channel hosts video clips including explanations of outages, tips to save energy at home, commercials and other features.

We listen out for customers who mention us on Twitter or comment on our Facebook, but we aren't online around the clock. The best way to immediately reach Customer Service remains 800-245-2244. To report an outage or hazardous condition, call 800-888-2726.
